Dreamt this one up, literally!

A major volunteer organization (Red Cross/Crescent/Crystal?) asks IR to help film a commercial promoting volunteerism that would be seen worldwide (Final line: "The more volunteers who come out to help after disasters, the less we have to" or something like that - I can't remember the exact quote now image ). It could be used as a screen by the Hood to get info on the IR operatives (a la Martian Invasion).
