I was rereading some of chapter 7 (as I've been copying it over to the Yuku site) and saw that John made a comment about "landing off-planet". At the time, I thought of the moon, but according to "Thunderbirds Are GO!", mankind has made it to Mars, and so has IR, however briefly. Now, the Mysterons are supposedly from Mars - though we haven't used any Captain Scarlet canon at all, and don't plan to.

Leaving out the Mysterons, what do you think about humankind having established an outpost on Mars? Might open up some interesting plot bunnies.
