Welcome to the fifth incarnation of International Rescue: The Next Phase messageboard.

Our first was at MSN, where we played from May 2004 to July 2007. Then we moved to ArtisticRainey's domain, where we've gone through three forum scripts! The first one we used proved to be unstable, the second was severely messed up by the domain's servers, and the third was swallowed in an attempt to upgrade it. The upgrade was necessary for the forum to move here, to Dianne's domain. So now we're settling into our new home and rebuilding once again.

Fortunately, the upgrade required a backup of all forum data, including messages. Unfortunately, they were saved in a manner not exactly conducive to just slapping up in fresh posts. Despite our best efforts, some things were lost, including some posts. We've pulled what we could from our mirror forum at YUKU, but even there a few posts slipped through the cracks and are pretty much lost for good. All feedback up until Chapter 12 was deleted in the second server's demolition job. As a result, we won't be posting any feedback at all as post numbers won't match up to what we had on the former forum.

So, welcome back! Please be patient as we rebuild and resume play. And feel free to introduce yourselves in this forum!

Dianne
