The forum rebuild is complete and play has resumed!

For those of you who may be registering for the first time (and actually want to legitimately comment or play), we've had to put our registrations on "By Approval Only". As you can probably see by the "Not Welcome!" forum, we've been dealing with spammers from day one, which is why we insist on approving new members ourselves. You might want to poke us on our FB group or email the mods (particularly Dianne) if you're serious about hanging out here. Dianne's email can be found on the main site, as can the modly email. Reading is, as always, open to the public.

We'll soon have a post of forum guidelines (as well as a few out and out rules) to let you know what you can expect from us as well as what we expect from you. Rules for playing can be found on the main site.

Later days, y'all!

Tikatu, ArtisticRainey, and Lillehafrue, your ever-lovin' Mod Squad
