Wow! I've been tweaking what used to be the main pages of the site and some of them hadn't been updated since 2012! Some hadn't been touched for longer than that; the internal links pointed to ArtisticRainey's old domain--which has long been defunct!

Everything should be cool now, though if you bop around and find something broken, shoot me a line (or reply here). Though you can get here from the homepage, you can only get to the other pages from the Our Site Offerings forum. So, if you want to read some of the characters' backgrounds or see the Tracy family history (as we envision it), check out those links!
