Here you will find all the info pertaining to our favorite kooks from Jupiter! A Member of the Brethren

The group seemingly appeared out of nowhere, showing up outside the hospital where Dianne, Dom and Nikki were taken after the tornado accident. They wear long blue robes, accented with a sash similar to the colors of the IR Team. They are bald by choice, with a ruby red earring in their ear. They seem to speak their own language and believe they have been sent to Earth from their home planet of Jupiter. They have their own website and seem to be a harmless bunch. They have been known to show up on rescues and offer assistance both with IR and without them.
