Do you have something special planned for your character? Let us know what it is so we don't step on your toes.

I have Scott's revenge for the pictures Gordon posted on the Brethren's website all planned out. He's keeping a low profile to throw Gordon off, as well as waiting for his brother to leave the island for a few hours! That doesn't mean you can't play with the kooks, but please refrain from writing Scott getting even with his brother! Thanks!

Also, Virgil and Luke are not the best of friends. They aren't enemies, but there is some animosity between them. Virg is a bit jealous of him in regards to Elise.

Don't forget that Rain has a subplot going on with Dom in Ireland. Though she doesn't have the actual posts listed, she'll be posting things for the next couple of timeline days.

Going to do a little storyline where Elise and Virgil then Virgil and Luke have a fight. Then Luke suggests that Elise comes home with him for Christmas, seeing she has no place else to go. This will give the quarrelling lovebirds a break and either make or break them.

Just a reminder- Alan and Cassie will be in Christchurch on Tuesday, November 13 - they're going to Tracy Industries and then doing some shopping that evening. Not sure if I'm actually going to do a post with them but as a previous post already established them going didn't want them popping up elsewhere.

At one point, it was discussed that not all the countries in the world would belong to the World Government. Here is a place to enter the countries you think would or would not belong. Name the country and put "yes" or "no" next to it.

If you think a new country (not currently in existence) would be a good idea, tell us where in the world it would be located, or if it was in existence, when it changed its name, and add your "yes" or "no" next to it.

For example:

USA - yes

Russia - yes

Canada - yes

Cuba - no

Homeria (formerly Greece) - yes (I doubt that would actually happen, but I wanted to come up with at least one example. Smile)

The UK (yes)
(actually, I think all of the current EU nations would be part).
Australia - yes
Japan - yes
China.... hm.

Republic of Ireland -- yes
(again all of the EU would probably join)
Switzerland -- yes (though would they actually subscribe to it in light of not being part of the EU now??)
New Zealand -- Yes
Australia -- Yes
South Africa -- Yes
Luxembourg -- Yes
Dominican Republic -- Yes

...I can't think of reasons why any country wouldn't be in it. I think we'd need to discuss politics eg: which countries are still/have become communist and wouldn't want to be a part of it...
