Because of an increase in spammer accounts, new user registration is temporarily closed. We don't like to do this, but it was getting ridiculous to have to ban these people several times a day.

If you're serious about joining in, poke one of us at our other online venues.

Sorry for the inconvenience. We'll let you know when registrations are open again.

And because my StopForumSpam thingy was letting spammers register, I've closed registration again. If you want to register, find me on tumblr and I'll set you up.
